MY-Tupelo Entertainment to Develop and Produce Original Multi-Platform Entertainment, Reality, Documentary, Sports Programming and Content for Worldwide Media Marketplace

NEW YORK, NY, FEBRUARY, 2009 – Cary Glotzer and Michael Yudin, looking to further expand their development and production activities in the global multi-platform programming and content arenas, have formed a new joint venture called: MY-Tupelo Entertainment. The new venture is the result of combining the interests of their existing companies – MY Entertainment Company (www.myentertainment.tv) and Tupelo-Honey Productions (www.tupelohoney.net) which is owned by SCP Worldwide. The announcement was made today by Mr. Glotzer and Mr. Yudin who will serve as co-presidents of the New York-headquartered MY-Tupelo Entertainment.

MY-Tupelo Entertainment will look to leverage the strengths of both of its founding company's long-standing track records in the creation of high quality original programming for such networks as ESPN, Showtime, MTV, Lifetime, History Channel, SoapNet, BET and FUSE Comedy Central, Oxygen, Spike TV, Logo, IFC and Food Network, as well broadband content for CBS Radio, AT&T and CondeNast, to name a few. The new venture will develop and produce entertainment, reality, documentary and sports programming and content for television and broadband including both Internet and mobile applications.

MY-Tupelo Entertainment brings together under one roof Tupelo-Honey's experience in remote, live and post-production with MY Entertainment's heritage in cable channel and broadcast network program development and production, along with its leadership role in the branded entertainment sector.

As well Mr. Yudin is widely recognized as a leading pioneer in marrying high quality television productions with marketers that deliver new revenue streams and added value to both advertisers and networks alike. In this regard, MY Entertainment has specifically produced television series and programming for a variety of such nationally-known brands as Schick, Jenny Craig, Stolichnaya and Reebok, among others.

"Coupling our production facilities and internal resources and MY Entertainment's development and production background, this new venture makes sense across several key business levels," said

Mr. Glotzer, president, Tupelo-Honey Productions. "Together, we'll now be able to produce and develop content for multiple platforms more efficiently, allowing us to become an even more formidable source for buyers of programming and content worldwide."

Remarked Mr. Yudin, president, MY Entertainment Company, “For buyers, MY-Tupelo Entertainment will provide the nimble, creative and independent thinking and personal, hands-on-style of an entrepreneur. However, a significant point of differentiation for the joint venture, we’ll also be able to offer many of the desirable ‘one-stop-shop’ attributes of a large entertainment company including vast experience in television and branded programming, broadband content and deep international perspectives and relationships.”

“When we acquired Tupelo-Honey Productions two-years ago we knew the company had a tremendous opportunity for growth and this is certainly a direct derivative of that,” said Mike McCarthy, partner, SCP Worldwide. “At SCP, we will look to provide the same support and guidance for My-Tupelo Entertainment that we have all our other businesses with the goal of making it the premier content provider in the industry.”
